The Foreign Inspectorate.

From the Supreme Court & Consular Gazette.) In a recent unulair we noticed the chief points connected with the establishment of the system of a Foreign Luspectorte of Customs in China. and we made allusion to the satisfactory manner in which the difficulties, that at first beset the scheme were overcome, and how in the course of ten years, the Customs' service has assumed a recognized status and has been placed under efficient and careful organisation. Connected with the history of the establish. ment of the Foreign Inspectorate in China, is a subject which, pending the approaching revision of the Treaty of Tientsin, is likely to assome no little importance. We allude to the

Employed by the Chinese: n constant and intimate intercourse with the dichits; dependent upon their farmer for pecuniary emolument, for reputation and position, hey are naturally disposed to lean towards their views and further their designs. In caving this, we have no desire to reflect apon a well informed and very useful class of Micials, whose services are of great value to foreign trade! We wish only to raise a warnng volvo against a certain superstitions venerntion, which is often bestowed upon them. They are regarded by many, especially by persons at home, as aracles upon Chinese questions, and a fact, as being almost the only men who are thoroughly requainted with the bearing of mich J: sin Treaty and upon subsequent occasions, is sufficient to show the degree of importance which is attached to the views of foreigners in the Chinese service; and it may, therefore, be not andesirable to consider how far this influ-

An accumintance with the language, combined with the opportunities of intercourse with the ustive officials, must be productive of a knowedge of Chinese matters amorior to that which can be gleaned by the outside world. whose conclusions are necessarily based doon somewhat shender premises. It must be remembered that those who are employed by the Chinese Govern-ment have a direct object in giving it all the support in their power. Opinions emanating from them should, therefore, be accepted with a certain degree of caption and reserve. They should be taken rather as the views of advocates than as Judges, useful as showing all that can be urged upon one side of the question, but not sufficient to form the sole basis of an impartial

The following commercial news is from the London and China Herita:-The Commercial Bank of Canada Bas stopped payment, owing to a large less in connection. with the Detroit and Milwaulces Railroad. With a view to cover the sum due from the railway company, it was recently determined to reduce the chares from $100 to $60 each; but this measure, instead of inspiring confidence, as was expected, caused a run upon the bank, and compelled the directors to close the chore. The total paid up onpital was $4,000,000, or £500,000 and there wore seventeen brauches and agencies in Canada, as well as eight foreign agencies. The shares were recently quoted $45 to $50. The liabities are considerable, but the exact amount has not yet transpired. The agents. here, the London Joint-took Hank, are Captain Groennebeck, will have quick dispatch fully govered. The Royal Bank of Liverpoel stopped payment on Monday week, the Mist ints. On Wednesday the shareholders met, and an immediate call was resolved upon of 25 per share. It was ! at the same time agreed that a speedy resumption of the business is desirable, said that steps should be taken to register the bank under the [Joint-Stock Companies' Act of 1862, The present liabilities to be provided for are $1,650,000. of which $1,200,000 are on deposit and guaranteed accounts, and £$50,000 of hills that will come back, owing to default by the parties primarily responsible. The losses sustained use estimated at 2770,000, to meet which there are IIIK American Barque the aupital, reserve fund, and andivided profits. amounting altogother to £826,000. The Manchester papers announce the failure | will load at Whampon and follow the of Messys. Braybrook and Blater, spinners and manufacturers, of Livesey, near Blackburn, for the above Port. Phoir liabilities are stated altogether to be about

The adjourned meeting of the ereditors of Messes. Moore. Phillips, and Company, was held at Birminghum on the 23rd inst. The committor appointed to investigate the affairs presented a full report, and also a statement of accounts; prepared by Messrs, Roberts and Malins, accountents. The report recommended that the offer of the debtors should be accepted to pay a further composition of 2s. 6d. in the pound on. which, with what they have already paid, world make up 8s. in the pound on the original amount of the debts. On the motion of Mr. Alderman. Cutier, ecconded by Mr. Hinchiff, of Huddernfield, this recommendation was approved by the moeting, with only one dissentient,
